Has Anyone Caught It From You?

By: Dr. Lynn Jones

So, on the following Sunday prepared to host a visiting preacher in night, Coach Drewry came on the their home. As his parents made invitation to let our church know preparation, their teenage son was a that he wanted to be baptized. It was bit resentful. He said to a friend, a great way to end our service that "You would think that the Lord Sunday night. Himself is coming." During the days that the visitor stayed with the fam- ily, he modeled love and personal interest in everyone he met. At the end of the week, the teenager said, "I think the Lord did make a visit to our home." What would he have said if you were the guest in the home?

The next day Coach Drewry called his kids to let them know of his decision and that he was going to be baptized. When he called Barry, he asked to speak to Lauren. When he told her that he was going to be baptized just like she had been bap- tized, she was very excited. She gave him a few pointers on how to do it, and then she asked, "Papaw, I'm glad that you're going to be baptized. Did you catch from me?" He said, "I think so, Lauren. I think I caught it from you."

That's a great thing to catch from --Sunday's Sermons: someone—especially from your AM: "Welcome to Paradise" granddaughter. What we all need to Luke 23:39-43; 2 Cor. 12:1-6 do is try to get others to catch it PM: Concert – NEMCC BSU
